FATHER DARKLEAF

By The Editor

The wise sayings of children would fill many a volume. Here's one we just heard that came from a little girl on Route One. She was looking at a beautiful sunset. The western sky was a wonder of gorgeous colors. Breathlessly she said, "Ain't the pretty? Then she paused, and added, "I could reach it I would die in it."

The reply that cuts off all further argument: At a baseball game recently two fans were having it out as to the respective merits of their teams. Finally one of them said, "Say, how did your team in the league last year?" To which the other fan replied: "How should I know? I was serving in the Navy."

Bennie Gallier, ten years old, is the seventh awarded the title of champion snake killer of the county. Bennie and Edward Mullin, 7 years old, were playing at the home of J. W. Mullin on F. L. Murphy's farm on Route One Thursday when they spied a 4 1-2 foot snake. They grabbed a hickory stick and killed the snake. Then a group of young snakes, several feet long, appeared on the scene and Bennie really went to work. When the rabbled, 22 had been killed. Nice going.

It is reported that the newest bride to Richwood, Mr. Brannon's, like most everything else, decided to take a trip by plane. With the neighborhood looking for them, they were found after having been gone for five hours taken up above the city by Lloyd Lewis' field pilot.

The new exisiting legislation gives the agency the authority to collect the information required by this program, and General Bright in asking the cooperation of the trade in helping to secure the necessary data calls attention to the fact that the Emergency Price Control Act specifically authorizes the Administrator "to obtain such information as he deems necessary or proper to assist him in prescribing any regulation or order under this Act, or in the administration and enforcement of this Act and regulation, orders and price schedules there nder."
